This unique farm house is set in rustic harmony, in an area on the Island where the crops are still irrigated by an ancient aqueduct system that runs through the foot of the plot and supplies the regularly situated water deposit.

With six varieties of avocados, orange groves, almond orchards and an abundance of fruit trees. The property consists of a main house with its own swimming pool and a guest house with its own swimming pool and entrance. The main house has three bedrooms and three bathrooms with the possibility to make a fourth bedroom. The guest house has four double bedrooms, one single and two small kitchens. There is also a separate studio containing a bedroom and bathroom.

The estate is entirely organic and has an Agroturismo license
